Summer Project Guidelines & Expectations

The goal of Summer Project is to provide intensive discipleship over the course of 6-weeks through national, local, and international ministry opportunities. Our commitment is to help train and equip each participant to grow in their understanding of who God is and how they can leverage their lives for his glory. To provide a maximal experience for all participants, Biltmore College will hold each participant to the following expectations:

- Live in a manner worthy of Christ. The ultimate goal of Summer Project is to grow participants' love and obedience to Jesus. Biltmore College asks all participants to honor Jesus in their lives and pursue a lifestyle worthy of the call of Christ, including but not limited to sexual ethics, substances, relationships, finances, social media, etc. Failure to live in this way could result in asking the participant to leave Summer Project. Any discipline carried out by Biltmore College has an end goal of helping the participant grow into the image of Christ and will be done in grace with truth.
- No out-of-town trips that interfere with Summer Project. In order to maximize the effectiveness of Summer Project, participants will need to be present for all aspects of the program. The College Pastor must approve any request to be out-of-town for any duration of time, including weekends.
- Be on time and where you are supposed to be. To respect the time of participants and partners, the expectation is to arrive on time to each scheduled session of Summer Project. If a participant is going to be late or miss a session, the participant must let the College Pastor know ahead of time.
- No leaving Summer Project before the full 6-week duration is complete. The College Pastor must approve any exceptions.
- No "one on one" opposite gender hangouts. Those participating in Summer Project are expected to live above reproach in all areas of their lives, including but not limited to, their relationships with the opposite sex. There must be a minimum of 3 people present if participants are gathering in a mixed gender setting.
- No dating other participants during Summer Project. If participants are dating before Summer Project, we ask you to remain in groups and focus fully on Summer Project for a full experience. If a participant is interested in dating another participant, they must wait until the completion of Summer Project before moving forward.
- Respect Curfews. To respect host families and participants, curfews will be in effect during the time in Asheville. While in Asheville, participants must be back at their lodging location by 11PM Sun-Wed nights and 12PM Thurs-Sat nights.
- No tobacco, alcohol, or drug use is allowed. Infractions will result in dismissal from Summer Project.
- Maintain a high level of personal integrity. Participants represent themselves, Biltmore College, and Christ while at Summer Project. We ask all participants to dress appropriately/modestly for all Summer Project activities and be respectful/helpful to all people we encounter over the 6-weeks.

FAQs

- Are meals covered in my Summer Project fundraising and how do I pay for them?
 - Yes! Meals are included in the amount you are fundraising! Each participant will be given a Divvy card (debit card) from the church to use throughout Summer Project. Each card will be issued to the participant by Biltmore Church with the total amount for meals uploaded to the card. Each participant will be responsible for monitoring their spending to have enough money for meals through the Summer. Each participant must also take a picture and upload a receipt on the app for each purchase they make on their Divvy card. If a participant uses all their money for food before the completion of Summer Project, they will be responsible for covering the remainder of their meals.
- Where will I lodge for the duration of Summer Project?
 - For those who do not live in Asheville, housing will be provided. You will stay with a Biltmore Church staff member family throughout the duration of Summer Project. For those who are local to Asheville, you can choose to either commute from your home or stay with a Biltmore Church staff member.
- Who's facilitating the trainings during the time in Asheville? What can I expect in the trainings?
 - Trainings will be facilitated by a Biltmore Church staff member. Each training is an hour and a half long. Summer Project participants and a Biltmore Church staff member will cover each topic from a biblical perspective. The goal of the training is to develop a holistic Biblical view of different parts of believers' lives and give space to wrestle and grow as an individual and a team.
